As former NYC Mayor Ed Koch once said, "If you agree with me, after picking 12 issues, on nine out of the 12, I'm very happy. If you agree with me on 12 out of 12, see a psychiatrist."

James Hogan - a normal, working class individual – is a software engineer who works in a cubicle and knows what effect $4/gallon gas has on the bills. James Hogan knows what a gallon of milk costs and represents "us" because he is one of "us".
Traffic Court Judge Robert McLeod – "Party Pick" for office – is a retired traffic court judge and one of "them". He doesn't represent "us" because he owes "them". Traffic Court Judge Rob McLeod can't cure the Pallone Virus and just provides the same.
